Psalter Reading

Psalm 17: 15-24

L: My mouth will tell of your righteous deeds, of your saving act all day long - though I know not how to relate them all.

P: I will come and proclaim your mighty acts, Sovereign Lord; I will proclaim your righteous deeds, yours alone.

L: Since my youth, God, you have taught me, and to this day I declare your marvelous deeds.

P: Even when I am old and gray, do not forsake me, my God, till I declare your power to the next generation, your mighty acts to all who are to come.

L: Your righteousness, God, reaches to the heavens, you who have done great things. Who is like you, God?

P: Though you have made me see troubles, many and bitter, you will restore my life again; from the depths of the earth you will again bring me up.

L: You will increase my honor and comfort me once more.

P: I will praise you with the harp for your faithfulness, my God; I will sing praise to you with the lyre, Holy One of Israel.

L: My lips will shout for joy when I sing praise to you - I whom you have delivered.

P: My tongue will tell of your righteous acts all day long, for those who wanted to harm me have been put to shame and confusion.
